PART B: CONTRACT DETAILS

DETAILS OF THE CONTRACT

This contract involves the freshwater ecological assessment as part of the environmental authorisation process for the proposed integrated residential development at Touwsrivier, Western Cape Province, to the Breede valley Municipality, as per detailed schedule of quantities.

The Directorate Engineering Services of the Breede Valley Municipality (BVM) (as the Employer) has, identified the need for the appointment of a specialist for the Freshwater Assessment as part of the Environmental Authorisation process for the proposed integrated residential development at Touwsrivier, Western Cape Province.

C3.1 SCOPE

This specification covers the requirements for the Freshwater Assessment as part of the Environmental Authorisation process for the proposed integrated residential development at Touwsrivier, Western Cape Province as listed in the schedule of quantities at the terms and conditions set out below:

The study will be undertaken in two phases. The purpose of the first phase of the assessment is to identify watercourses within the regulated zone as stipulated within Notice 509 of 2016 as it relates to the National Water Act 1998 (Act No. 36 of 1998). In the first phase of the assessment a short high level field assessment will be undertaken which will aim to ground truth selected aspects identified during the desktop analysis of the various areas and a high-level indication of the Ecstatus of the systems will be presented to provide the relevant feedback to the proponent, Environmental Assessment Practitioner (EAP) and relevant competent authority in the form of a short report / technical memorandum. Based on the outcome of Phase 1, the specialist will advise on the necessity to implement Phase 2 of the study. Thus, Phase 1 is considered necessary to inform the way forward in terms of meeting the applicable enviro-legal requirements from a freshwater ecosystem management point of view.

In the second phase following the phase 1 assessment a detailed report will be generated for the environmental authorisation processes, providing both qualitative and quantitative data on the PES of the watercourses associated with the study areas. The studies will generate detailed site sensitivity maps and all results will be used to inform a detailed impact assessment, which will be undertaken according to a pre-defined impact assessment methodology, and key mitigatory measures in order to minimise impacts on both the local and regional wetlands and its water quality, and freshwater ecology will be highlighted. The study will also aim to determine the risk of any development activities on possible resources and to establish whether authorisation from the Department of Water and Sanitation (DWS) or in terms of NEMA.

The following sections provide the methods of assessment which will be applied during the study.

METHOD OF ASSESSMENT

PHASE I: Desktop, Fieldwork & Verification Report.

- A detailed desktop study will be undertaken highlighting the EIS and PES based on available databases such as the National Biodiversity Assessment (2018), the NFEPA database (2011) and the BGIS website;
- Delineation of the watercourses associated with the proposed development as provided by the client will be verified, according to “DWAf, 2008: A practical Guideline Procedure for the Identification and Delineation of Wetlands and Riparian Zones”. Aspects such as soil morphological characteristics, vegetation types and wetness will be used to verify the delineation of the watercourse temporary zone according to the guidelines;
- Delineation of watercourses within 500m of the associated with the proposed development will be undertaken utilising desktop methods, with limited field verification thereof;
- All watercourses identified during the field assessment will be mapped using a handheld GPS and the use of the applicable GIS software;
- A watercourse classification assessment will be undertaken according to the Classification System for Wetlands and other Aquatic Ecosystems in South Africa. User Manual: Inland systems (Ollis et al., 2013);
- Applicable buffer zones and/or zones of regulation according to relevant legislation or provincial guidelines will then be delineated around the watercourses. The applicable buffer maps will be provided;
- A brief statement of the findings of the site assessment will be provided, as well as all maps and data from national and provincial databases that have bearing on the wetland Present Ecological State (PES) and Ecological Importance and Sensitivity (EIS). In this regard specific mention is made of the National Freshwater Ecosystem Priority Areas (NFEPA) databases and relevant Conservation datasets.
- A short report will be formulated which will summarise, at a high level the desktop and field assessment results of all the borrow pit sites, to guide the proposed development activities and to determine whether any activities under Listing Notice 1 and 3 of the National Environmental Management Act (NEMA) (Act 107 of 1998) and the associated 2014 Regulations will be triggered. The wetland assessment will also guide the proponent and EAP of further action that need to be taken in support of a Water Use Authorisation under the NWA.

PHASE II: Full Assessments Report.

- The information gathered as part of the initial assessment phase will be used as part of the detailed freshwater ecological impact assessment phase.
- The ecosystem services provided by the resources within the study area will be assessed according to the method of Kotze et al (2020) in which services to the ecology of the site will be defined and services to the people of the area will be defined
 - The wetland Present Ecological State (PES) will be assessed according to indices such as the Wet-Health / Index of Habitat Integrity as advocated by Macfarlane et al., (2008) and DWA (2007), respectively as applicable;
 - The wetland EIS will be determined based on the method described by Rountree & Kotze, (2013);
 - Aspects regarding watercourse drivers and receptors as required by the DWS Chief Directorate Instream Water Use will be reported on, including the following:
 - Watercourse drivers: Hydrology;
 - Water quality; and
 - Sediment balance and the geomorphological regime.
 - Watercourse receptors:
 - Habitat; and
 - Biota.
 - Based on the findings during the assessment, and based on the project plan and proposed layout plan as provided by the proponent, a detailed impact assessment on all identified significant risks will take place including cumulative impacts on wetland assemblages in the region; and
 - The Risk Assessment as promulgated in Government Notice 509 of 2016, as it relates to the National Water Act, 1998 (Act No. 36 of 1998) will be undertaken to determine is a General Authorisation or a full Water Use Licence will be required for any activities; and
 - Recommendations on management and mitigation measures (including opportunities and constraints) with regards to the development/operation or decommissioning of the development in order to improve, manage and mitigate impacts on the freshwater ecology of the area will be provided. All results will be compiled into a comprehensive specialist impact assessment report
