Survivalist enterprises are generally defined as businesses set up by people unable to find a paid job or get into an economic sector of their choice. Income generated from these activities usually falls far short of even a minimum income standard, with very little capital invested, virtually no skills training in the particular field and only limited opportunities for growth into a viable business. This category is characterised by poverty and the attempt to survive.

Micro enterprises are very small businesses, often involving only the owner, some family members and at the most one or two paid employees. They usually lack 'formality' in terms of business licenses, value-added tax (VAT) registration, formal business premises, operating permits and accounting procedures. Most of them have a limited capital base and only rudimentary technical or business skills among their operators. However, many micro enterprises advance into viable small businesses. Earning levels of micro enterprises differ widely, depending on the particular sector, the growth phase of the business and access to relevant support.

The quantities are an estimation and must only be used for the purpose of calculating a total tender amount. The municipality is not bound to the quantities in the tender document, hence actual quantities ordered and delivered shall depend on the needs and budget limitations of the municipality. Thus, the municipality reserves the right to amend the quantities at its discretion in order to meet budget limitations.
- 11.2. Service providers are urged to take into account all the necessary costs of delivery the goods to the client when casting their prices i.e. (administration, telephone, transportation, etc.). The municipality shall at any given stage during the evaluation of tenders, conduct verification checks in order to ensure that unrealistically low tenders are eliminated not to participate further on price.

The onus is on the bidder to formally communicate (submit) price escalations together with supporting evidence prior to implementation thereof. The annual price increase shall be based on the previous year's average CPI indices (1 May - to 30 May). Failure to communicate the price escalations before or on date of implementation, the prices shall remain the same until such time the increases in submitted, and the additional costs incurred will be for the bidder's own account. The price escalations needs to be communicated to scm@bvm.gov.za.
